Cold and Ill, Youth Tells.Police He's Wanted for Springfield Burglary.

CAME SEEKING PARENTS

Finds They Have Moved, and Is Too Weak to Try Any of His old Tricks.

In a straw hat and light summer suft worn very thin, hungry, chilled to the bone, a young man tottered into Police Headquarters early to-day and asked to be allowed to give himself up for burglary,

"I'm John O'Nelli, twenty-two years old," the emaciated youth told Lieut.
Fogarty. "By choice I'm a second-story man and a sneak thief and by prison compulsion I'm a shoemaker. What I am is in the wood and, I guess, was born in me. But it suited me while it

The job I want to give myself up for I did at Soringfield, Mass., last April 7. I climbed the porch of a house or Maple street there and got away with five diamond rings, which I bocked in Boston for $150. The money didn't last me long. I reckon I ain't made to keep money unyway.

"I've done a five-year bit in Charlestown penitentiary, at Boston, for bur-glary and was released last January. All my good behavior went for nothing because I couldn't keep my mouth shut. Had to talk to other prisoners. My Ind to talk to other prisoners. My nouth's always getting me into trouble. "I got a job with a railroad construction gang up this State and at the end mouth's always getting me into trouble. tion gang up this State and at the end of two weeks they told me I had eaten all I had earned. So I quit. What could I do with a mouth like that? WAS PAINTED AS A FREAK IN

CIRCUS. "After that I got a job with a circu

"They painted me up; days and nights I was a tent hand. I got $5 a week out of it. They kept $1.50 back each week, though, and said that was for honesty. But the grub was good and sometimes you got two meals a day. "They painted me up; days and nights Besides the 'picking' on the side was good and I was satisfied. No, I sin't going to commit mygelf as to what the picking was.

"But I lost my circus job three weeks ago. I broke down with maiaria at Fonda, N. Y. I managed to beat it to Pitts.eid, Mass., but there I had to be taken to the hospital and I was discharged yesterday morning. A good Samaritan staked me my fare and I came to New York to see my people. I found my folks had moved. I don't know where they've gone and I can't

"So what's the use? The winter is before me and I look pretty rough, so I guess it's no good taking a chance in New York. I haven't had a chance to

to it.
"I had intended to stay with the circus people and go straight and I'd have done it all right if I hadn't caugh:

pat me right again and I'll have an-A detective was called from Clinton atreet station to lock him up. After-ward the Springfield police were noti-fed.

HIGH DIVER FAILS TO RISE AFTER 100-FOOT DIVE

Dadivo, a high diver, lies in a critical condition in McKinley Hospital, Trenton from the effects of a dive he made yestarday afternoon from a 100-foot ladder into a tank with eight feet of water, at the Interstate Fair. The dive was the last event in a series of athletic feats. A big crowd waited to see it, as it was the first time Dadivo had tried such a height, having previously dived from a 10 foot ladder.

When he falled to come to the surface after plunging into the tank the fescuers. A wrestler, known as Young Hackenschmidt, jumped into the tank.
After two dives he found Dadivo at the

When brought to the surface Dadivo was purple. He was removed uncon-actous to the hospital. The doctors there said he had little chance of re-
